

Kidblog at Bridstow

We are all very excited about the way that our Class 4 have taken to blogging this term. They have responded really positively to Mr Pullen's encouragement, and are now very accomplished bloggers – and also very and helpful in terms of commenting on each other's ideas.

We have had a look online – and we're proud to say that we can't find any site anywhere with such a wide and up to date range of ideas, arguments and stories. And we're very proud of that!

We're now looking to broaden the audience for our blogs, and so we're working on developing a project with a local school who are keen to learn from our young experts.

Watch this space for more details!